Art Unit: 3622

Election/Restrictions

1. This Office Action is responsive to the original application filed 08/23/2001. Claims 1-31 are pending, claims 1, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28-31 are independent.

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-24, 26-28, and 30-31, drawn to a method for processing electronic stored value certificate, classified in class 705, subclass 26.
- II. Claim 25, drawn to a method for issuing a promotional certificate to a recipient without consideration, classified in class 705, subclass 14.
- III. Claim 29 drawn to a method of processing an electronic stored value certificate wherein a third party host generates a visual display comprising a purchaser payment input form, classified in class 705, subclass 1.

4. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

In the instant case, subcombination II, has separate utility such as issuing a promotional certificate to a recipient without consideration which is not required in Subcombination I, as claimed.

Thus the subcombinations are distinct because they do not overlap in scope, are not obvious variants and have separate utilities.

Art Unit: 3622

Because inventions I and II are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

In the instant case, subcombination III, has separate utility such as processing an electronic stored value certificate wherein a third party host generates a visual display comprising a purchaser payment input form and wherein specifically the merchant issues, activates and redeems the electronic stored value certificate, which features are not required in Subcombination I, as claimed.

Thus the subcombinations are distinct because they do not overlap in scope, are not obvious variants and have separate utilities.

Because inventions I and III are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

In the instant case, subcombination III, has separate utility such as processing an electronic stored value certificate wherein a third party host generates a visual display comprising a purchaser payment input form and wherein specifically the merchant issues, activates and redeems the electronic stored value certificate, which features are not required in Subcombination II, as claimed.

Thus the subcombinations are distinct because they do not overlap in scope, are not obvious variants and have separate utilities.

Because inventions I and III are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Further, within Group I the following restriction by species is required:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Within Group I: Claims 1-24, 26-28, and 30-31: The generic claim is claim 1.

Applicants are required to elect between the following species:

IA) claims 1- 12, 13, 15-24, 26-28, and 30-31; or

1B) claims 1- 12, 14, 15-24, 26-28, and 30-31

IA vs. 1B: Claims 13 and 14 are different species.

Art Unit: 3622

The species are independent or distinct because claim 13 is drawn to redeeming via call center while claim 14 is drawn to redeeming in a physical store. The species are clearly mutually exclusive.

6a. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

6b. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

6c. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

6d. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

6e. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 3622

6f. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

6g. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6h. The Examiner thanks Mr. Palermo for agreeing on 9/13/2006 to elect Group I, without traverse, for prosecution, however, upon further consideration, it appears claims 13 and 14 of Group I are different species hence the further restriction.

6g. The period for reply to this Restriction requirement is one (1) month.
(See MPEP 809.02(a).)
